Fahey is a scholarly speaker, a graduate of St. Stanislaus College and has studied in Rome, is a Bay St. Louis resident and was ordained to the priesthood here and is especially fitting that on the observance of the diamond anniversary of St. Joseph's that he should be the speaker.

STANISLAUS ALUMNI TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION ON SUNDAY, JUNE 1ST.

Louis Jacob, Class 1876, Only Surviving Member; Acting President Will Preside.

Hundreds of graduates of St. Stanislaus College are preparing to attend the annual Alumni Day reunion at the college next Sunday, June 1. This will be the third reunion since the association was re-organized by Brother Peter in 1927.

Each year the membership grows larger and this year's meeting promises to eclipse all past affairs. Every graduate will be welcomed and representatives are expected from every class as far back as 1876. Louis Jacob of New Orleans, the sole graduate of that year, is acting president of the body and will be on hand at roll call Sunday morning. John Claverie of St. Stanislaus, was elected to lead the Alumni last year, but he died a few weeks after the reunion. The other officers are: Linde Broad of New Orleans, 2nd vice-president; Gus Ros of Pascagoula, 3rd vice-president; Alphonse Favre of Bay St. Louis, secretary; Justin Green of New Orleans, treasurer; and Rev. Leo Fahey of Bay St. Louis, chaplain.

A special program is being arranged for the day. Father Leo Fahey of St. Stanislaus will deliver the address at 10:30. Mass will be followed by roll call, a short business session, election of officers for the coming year and the annual banquet. The banquet will be held in the college dining hall under the direction of the college steward, Mr. Ohi Meyer.

St. Stanislaus alumni have taken charge of the entertainment for the afternoon. Included in the program is a drive along the water front to show the new seawall and the concrete road bordering the bay.

PERKINS IS SPEAKER AT BAY ROTARY

Well-Known Business Man And Stanislaus Athletic Coach at His Best.

Bay St. Louis Rotarians had another splendid luncheon-meeting on Wednesday noon at the Weston Hotel, when H. Grady Perkins, prominent local business man and popular coach of athletics at St. Stanislaus College, delivered a talk on the characteristic of the boy and boy's work as he saw it in his work.

It was apparent Mr. Perkins was at his best. He had a good subject, one that he is thoroughly familiar with, possessing good thought and the gift of expression that carried. He told of the value of athletics, of the discipline, the value of good sportsmanship, the spirit of ambition created and the various and many other elements that entered into the every day life. He was listened throughout his discourse with rapt attention.

His is the second of a series of talks by young business men of this city. Henry W. Osoinach speaking last week. Another, a Rotarian, follows next Wednesday.

SUCCESSFUL PLAY GIVEN HERE BY PASS CHRISTIAN PLAYERS

Billy, Given Wednesday Night of Last Week, Proves Hilarious and Delightful

One of the finest productions witnessed in Bay St. Louis in some time was given Wednesday night of last week by a cast of actors from Pass Christian who appeared at St. Stanislaus College auditorium in a hilarious comedy, Billy. This is the sixth play given by this group of players and was excellently given. The special stage set was designed by Minor E. Sutter and Mrs. John A. Sutter acted as prompter.

The cast of characters in the order of their appearance follows: Sailor, Pete McCollister; Boatman, Donald Sutter; Steward, Billy Rhine; Beatrice Sloane, (her mother), Beatrice Sloane, (a debutante); Mrs. Sloane, (her mother); Peggy Gause; Seward, Lillian Sutter; Sam Eustace, (Billy's rival); John Hargrave, (a banker); Joseph Sumrall; Ship's Doctor, Francis McDonald; Billy Hargrave, (a football hero); Minor Sutter; Alice Hargrave, (his sister); Hazel Adam Woods; Mrs. Hargrave, (his mother); Kathryn Northrop; Captain, Fred Sutter.

There were three acts, the first in the afternoon, the second five minutes after the closing of the first, and the third in early morning, all three taking place on "B" deck of the S. S. Florida of New York bound for Havana. The action hinged on lighted teeth and the comedy was characterized as a toothsome play.

The work of the actors was little short of professional and all are to be highly congratulated for their work.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE FOR JUNE 7TH.

Amusement is essential for any community. Younger people and others must seek diversion and the invitation of the dance is always compelling. Announcement is made to the effect there will be another delightful ball at the Woodmen of the World Hall, Bay St. Louis, on the evening of Saturday, June 7, music by Joseph Labat's Jazz Aggregation. Admission 75 cents; ladies 25 cents.

It is noted these delightful dances at the Woodmen Hall attract many visitors Saturday evenings from the surrounding country, drawing from Pass Christian, Gulfport and intermediate points, an elite of that territory. In addition many come from the Waveland, Lakeshore, Kiln and contiguous territory.

The dance for Saturday night, June 7th, is for a worthy purpose and the public is generally invited.

To Attend Graduation.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald and young son, Fred of North Beach Boulevard, will leave Wednesday of next week for Nashville for ten days' visit with Mrs. McDonald's family. They go especially to attend June 11 the graduation of Mrs. McDonald's sister, Miss Dorothy Overall who receives her degree at Vanderbilt University with Phi Beta Kappa honors. It is interesting to know that for 20 years there has been a member of the Overall family attending Vanderbilt as Mrs. McDonald and two sisters and brothers have attended this institution during those years each receiving degrees and one brother studying medicine there also. Their father was at Vanderbilt also in the years 1882-83.

EIGHTH GRADE PARTY

One of the most enjoyable of the closing of school parties was that given Saturday night by Miss Willie Lee Young, sponsor for the eighth grade, Central school, who entertained the class at a theater party. The children viewed the picture, "Racketeers," and after the show assembled at Miss Young's apartment where delicious refreshments of ice cream and cakes were served. Miss Helen Vaughn assisted Miss Young in the serving.

Those present were: Bessie Mitchell, Cora Griffith, Vanda Mae Middleton, Wesley Stark, Murry Hawkins, Len Hays, Gene Kalinski, Charlot Hawkins, Lois Ansley, Mary Katherine Evans, Curt's Ladner, Marion Ingram, Jack Jackson, Catherine Saucier, Genevieve Deceason and Esther Pohn. The class presented to Miss Young as a parting gift a silver doirine and party handkerchief.

TIME CLOCK FOR RACES.

An innovation for the speedboat races, to be held in Bay St. Louis, is the mechanical time clock to be used. It was designed by John C. de Armas and painted by Harry L. Witter. Its construction was carried out at the Graham-Hille garage. Chas. A. Breath, senior, sponsor for the races, expressed much satisfaction at the new time clock.

EASTER LILIES AND HOW TO GROW THEM TALK OVER WGCM

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard Delivered Following Talk at Gulfport Garden Club Radio Hour.

For three or four weeks past Easter lilies have been the joy of the Coast gardeners with their beautiful stalks of snow white lily blossoms. The great many flowers seen and the many yard in which they thrive show the success with which Easter lilies may be grown here. It is not the job of an expert to grow Easter lilies well, as any amateur gardener may have success. Much depends on a good type of bulb. By this, I do not necessarily mean an expensive bulb but rather a bulb which has been grown in this section so that it is accustomed to the Coast climate.

Ever since I have started to grow Easter lilies I have been successful with them. They grow much better out in the open beds than they do in beds near the house or fences. At the end of August or about the time the stems of the lilies that were left standing dry up; I dig the bulbs, separate them and replant at once, by doing this the bulbs have time to grow and become strong before they come up again and they will produce larger blooms and more lilies to each plant.

If you plant the bulbs when you plant the large bulbs, they will grow well and produce lilies the same time the large bulbs produce, but they will be smaller blooms. I have been told that the best way to keep bulbs for a period of time and for shipping or delayed planting is to cover them in a box of white sand as this preserves the moisture in the bulb and prevents decay. I do nothing special to the soil except to work it somewhat, before I put the bulbs back in the ground. I try to plant them in a different location in the beds. Sometimes I make a border down each side, then the next time I plant down the middle of the beds. I dig the bulbs every other year.

Winter is my time to transplant, so I did not have quite so many as the year before, and the severe winter stunted them somewhat, last spring I had two thousand and flowers. As soon as the bud opens large enough for me to put my hand in; I take out the yellow pollen, that preserves the flower and they last longer and do not become stained if the dampness or rain hits them. Ten lilies on one stem, was the largest I had this year but about five years ago I had one plant with 16 buds on one stem and it was quite a curiosity.

By planting the bulbs early they come up in the late fall and if the winter is mild the plants are quite high in January and February and you will have early blooms. Do not over fertilize. The only thing I do when it begins to get cold I just cover the beds with stable fertilizer. I do not cover or protect the plants in the winter and I did not lose one past winter, but I do not think this would apply to a colder climate. I find by planting perennials and stock and other annuals between the lilies it adds so much to the beauty of the garden, as the lilies grow tall and with the white blooms and the other plants in all bright colors beneath them is most effective.

The first lilies that open in my garden are always for the Lord, I send them to all the churches.

In my garden on North Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis, I have grown lilies for my own enjoyment and for the pleasure I have in presenting them to my friends. Nothing gave me a happier thought to a friend than a flower and my lilies, I believe, have given joy to many.

I am reminded of the beauty of the lily which our Lord glorified when he said: Consider the lilies of the field how they grow, they toil not, neither do they spin, and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was unto arrayed like one of these.

SPRAINS ANKLE

John Dambrino of the Sea Coast Echo force suffered a sprained right ankle Tuesday when he attempted to at the C. of C. rooms in the Masonic Temple and a full membership attendance is urged.

The baccalaureate sermon of the senior class of the Bay St. Louis school was held at the Central High school auditorium, Sunday morning as the first of the commencement events, the senior play coming Thursday of this week and graduation Friday night.

The stage was beautifully decorated with great baskets of vari-colored gaidio, arranged by the Central Parent-Teachers Association of which Mrs. Jas. A. Evans is president, and this organization furnished the special music for the morning, the numbers including a beautiful solo, Sancta Maria by Mrs. Orie M. Pollard, accompanied by Mrs. H. U. Cauty at the piano, and a duet by Mrs. Hamil Jackson and Mrs. Appel accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Dell of New Orleans. Two hymns were sung by the congregation.

Rev. W. S. Allen, pastor of the Baptist churches at Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian, was the speaker of the morning and delivered an exceptionally fine sermon on the subject, Life. From a wide experience as pastor to students Rev. Allen selected for his scholarly address phases of description of life chosen from the past, present and predicting the future, suited to the appreciation of the seniors and inspirational to them as they leave their high school period.

The mystery of life was discussed, the gift of life from God the Father to all mankind and the value of the soul, that undying part of life which is to be moulded on earth by the individual and prepared for a future beyond the grave.

What will you do with life, was the question asked by the minister of the seniors, who aided them in this answer by suggesting that there were two directions they might tend, that of selfishness, greed, irresponsibility, or the better direction in which each would do his or her part to brighten life, carry on God's program of good and add to the general happiness of mankind.

Entering to the processional, the march from Aida, the seniors, wearing caps and gowns in the gray of the national high school uniform, formed a pretty picture as they took their places. Prof. S. J. Ingram, superintendent of city schools, presided at the service which was witnessed by a large number of patrons and friends of the school.

CONTRACTORS IN DISPUTE HAVE A SERIOUS AFFAIR

Edw. Osbourn Gives Self to Sheriff After Stating He Had Cut John Beuhler

Edw. Osbourn, local contractor and builder, presented himself at the Sheriff's office Wednesday morning and stated that he wished to give himself into the custody of the law, that he had had an altercation with John Beuhler, also local contractor and builder and had cut him.

At the same time, Beuhler, accompanied with the driver of his car, presented himself at the King's Daughters hospital to have a number of cuts dressed that had been drawn across his back, and which were pronounced by the attending physician as not serious.

The dispute arose about building a dwelling for S. T. Terry, of New Orleans, in Waveland estates. It appears from information available that Osbourn has begun the foundations for the building and later it was said Beuhler had the contract and work. Apparently, there was a clash of authority and doubt as to who really had the contract, hence the trouble between the two men.

Both are well known and reputable contractors and builders.

C. OF C. MEETING

"DEAD ROACH IN THE COCK PIT."

Lester Franklin escaped impeachment by refusing to go on the stand and testifying in his own defense. Should he persist in his announced determination to be a candidate for governor he will place himself in a position where he will be asked the same questions which his prosecutors wanted to interrogate him about during his trial at Jackson. He will be forced to explain if he shared in the division of that $80,000 and also why he was guilty of perjury before the Anderson investigating committee. As the Echo views it, Lester is "a dead cock in the pit" even before the gubernatorial campaign starts.

"JAKE" AND PARALYSIS.

The state board of health announces that the wave of partial paralysis, blamed upon drinking Jamaica ginger, has reached its peak at somewhere between 2000 and 2500 cases, as no further cases are being reported. While many theories have been advanced as to what chemical in "jake" is responsible for the paralysis all have been discarded. Likewise many attempts at determining cures have failed. As yet no health authorities are willing to be quoted upon whether or not, in their opinion, the malady's effects will be permanent.

JUDGE E. R. HOLMES

A bill has been passed by the senate providing for the appointment of an additional judge for the fifth judicial circuit, and Federal Judge E. R. Holmes seems to be in line to secure the much coveted position. He has made a splendid record during the several years he has been presiding on the bench as federal judge for the southern Mississippi district and his appointment to the higher court is being urged by the State bar association and our senators and congressmen. The Echo sincerely hopes that he will be appointed.

FAMILY FONDNESS

Jim Ferguson, ousted from the governorship of Texas a few years ago, has been declared by the supreme court of that state ineligible to hold office. He wanted to be governor again and since the court has balked at his desire, his wife is in the race for the nomination. The Ferguson family evidently have a fondness for the salary, comforts, etc., attached to the gubernatorial job.

The Democratic executive committees in some counties of the delta section have done the thing that was right and proper by barring all Hoovercrats from participation in future primary elections. Every other county committee in the State ought to do likewise, as traitors should have no voice or vote in the selection of Democratic candidates for office in Mississippi. The order ruling them out should be iron-clad and made perpetual.

Oil, gas and sulphur leases on lands in Forrest, Stone and Perry counties are being bought by Illinois promoters, and no one need be surprised if the discovery of such mineral wealth is not announced in south Mississippi before very long. Good Lord, speed the day when such deposits are found.

The Alabama supreme court has once more declared in a recent decision that the Democratic committee of that State had the right to bar Hoovercrats candidates a place on the Democratic ticket to be voted in the August primary. Old Tom Heflin and his misguided followers must by now realize the mistake they made in deserting the Democratic fold.

Mississippi banks continue to close their doors—three of them being taken over by the State banking department during the past week. "Frozen assets"—collateral upon which they could not realize cash—is given as the cause of the failures, but no doubt their closing is chargeable to ignorance of proper banking methods and management.

Eighteen years ago a Montreal bank was robbed of $272,000, and ever since the robber had been hunted the world over. Just the other day the yegg who "pulled the job" was arrested by a Chicago policeman from whom he begged a time. "I'll gotten gains take wings and fly" is applicable in this case just as it is in all others of like character.

We see it stated in one of our exchanges that an Iowa farmer planted eight and one half acres in mint last season and his profit was $150 on each acre. Since prohibition went into effect we thought mint juleps were a thing of the past.

Any legless man can run for office," says the Florida Times-Union. The trouble over this way, brother, is that we have headless men running for office.—Jackson Daily News.

The Neshoba Democrat says: "We have the Roosevelt dam, the Wilson dam and the Coolidge dam. So far Hoover doesn't seem to be worth a dam." Then you said a mouthful, brother.

Even in the Argentine the people mourn the death of a short horn bull. The animal was killed in a fight with a bull and was sold for $64.

WHEN VOTING, AUGUST, 1931

The gaffing report reaches the proud capital of Mississippi that the men and women throughout the length and breadth of the commonwealth are saying this is a time to forget factionalism and to put their arms around each other and work for the good of their common mother—Mississippi. It seems to be generally agreed that in Mississippi every prospect pleases and only factional politics is vile. At the state-wide primary in August, 1931, to nominate every officer from governor to constable, including a legislature, the men and women of the eighty-two counties of Mississippi will pass into the voting booths with—

"A weapon that comes down as still
As snowflakes fall upon the sod;
But executes a freeman's will,
As lightning does the will of God;
And from its force, nor doors nor locks
Can shield you;—it is the ballot-box."

The above from the pen of Hon. Edgar S. Wilson is a brief, truthful and eloquent summation of the sentiment at present prevailing throughout the length and breadth of our great State, and as the days roll along until the general election next year that sentiment will continue to grow and become crystallized in the mind of every patriotic and loyal man and woman when they enter "the holy of holies"—the sacred polling booth,—where only themselves and the good Lord will know why and for whom they cast their ballots.

With the scandals and unsavory revelations which have been shown up in high official circles during the past fresh in their memory, the honest voters of Mississippi will ponder long and well the record, qualifications and fitness of every candidate next year, and woe be unto those who try to get into office through appeals to factional likes and dislikes or on any other grounds other than personal worth and unqualified merit. The death knell has been sounded for all time in our State for the demagogue and four-flusher and all such who would seek political preferment hereafter might as well recognize that fact.

SHORT CUT ROAD TO NEW ORLEANS

General satisfaction is expressed at the success of the passage of the short cut road bill by both branches of the Mississippi Legislature a few days since, and which Representative Bryan Russell fostered, aided by his immediate colleagues, with such success.

We are told the proposed route will shorten the present route by some twenty-two miles each way, to say nothing of the fact that the roadway will be hard-surfaced. Since better roadways shorten distance then we must not lose sight of this fact.

Ever since the present Old Spanish Trail route was built and opened to traffic, with its long and tortuous route over that long stretch known as Honey Island, it has been the dream that some day a shorter and more direct route would be evolved and built. We are now on the eve of this cherished hope and we cannot let the occasion go by without expressing our own gratification which is naturally born of the things that have come to pass in order to make our desire become a reality.

We cannot say what side anticipates more and will welcome more the building of this proposed short route. Whether it is the Mississippi Gulf Coast or the New Orleans side. It has, indeed, been a mutual ambition.

Gov. Long over in Louisiana only a few weeks said, through his accredited representatives officially visiting Bay St. Louis, that he was ready to go with Louisiana's share. He invited conference, but well qualified the invitation, "do not come until you will send representatives armed with authority and ready to go." We are now ready, fully armed, and now await the time and place to meet Louisiana's chief executive.

CASE OF BISHOP CANNON.

Bishop James Cannon entered a plea of guilty to the charge made against him of gambling in Wall Street, but upon his promise to do so no more the Southern Methodist conference did not divest him of the high and honorable office which he has disgraced. He is the same clerical bigot who so bitterly opposed the election of Al Smith in the last presidential campaign because the Democratic candidate was not a "bone dry" fanatic like himself—and for the further and more pressing reason that he was a Catholic. It is a good thing for this country that there are but few of the non-Catholic clergy as narrow-minded as Bishop Cannon.

OUR CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Not less than forty thousand people are expected to attend the Confederate Veterans' Reunion in Biloxi next week, and every imaginable preparation is under way to make it the most memorable gathering the old soldiers have ever had, as it will probably be the last time they will ever meet in Mississippi. Their number is fast decreasing and a few years hence the last brave followers of Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and the other intrepid leaders of '61 to '65 will have "crossed over the river" to join their illustrious chieftains, but the valor of their deeds on thousands of sanguinary battlefields will never be forgotten so long as there remain loyal Southern hearts.

The per capita wealth of people of the United States according to the figures furnished by the National Industrial Conference Board, is in the neighborhood of $3,000. But the trouble about it is it is not equally distributed, as the great bulk of the nation's money is in the hands of a very very small number of people, and unfortunately, the tendency among those who possess it is to keep it locked up in banks and it is not circulating, and therein lies the cause of depression and hard times. In 1928, the last year recorded, the wealth of our country was $360,000,000,000, an increase of more than $40,000,000,000 in six years previous. Possessing such a horde of wealth it is almost unbelievable that there should exist a financial depression or that millions of men and women throughout our country should be unemployed at this time.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTS

FOR GOLF COURSE ON BAY ST. LOUIS.

More than ordinary interest is attached to the united and determined effort of the good people of Pass Christian and vicinity to complete or rehabilitate the golf course of 18 holes that was originally built at Pass Christian Isles, on Bay St. Louis, when that colossal project was in the building.

Realizing the necessity of this project as a recreational factor and an asset of inestimable value, the hope is expressed there will be an early fruition of the enterprise. Town officials of Pass Christian co-operating with the citizenry of that place are most active in the premises. It is planned to recondition the course, build a club-house and to do all that will be immediately necessary. From an initiatory fee, of $25.00 (proposed) and a $5.00 per month (proposed) dues it is planned sufficient funds will be realized to defray part of the initial cost and maintenance. Bay St. Louis no doubt will fully co-operate, for the fact is, to be honest, we need such enterprise from our side of the bay as well as those of the other side.

AND NOW A TAX ON MOVIE TICKETS.

Beginning June 1 Mississippi's State tax on movie admission tickets goes into effect. We have been subjected to the ad valorem tax as burdensome as it could be made, and then some more, that we are now going to be specially taxed on everything under the sun.

The tax on movie admissions is 10 per cent, or, one cent on every ten. As in all instances of special taxes, it is the consumer who pays. The "buck," as the boys call it, is passed all the way down the line on to the ultimate consumer. And that's you and me.

Our own movie house, the A. & G. Theater, has a happy solution of the situation, as far as that goes. They are splitting the burden. Heretofore admission, or, at present, is 35 cents on every night but Sunday and Mondays. Next week the price of admission will be reduced to 30 cents. For the law says, no tax on any amount at and below 30 cents.

On Sunday and Monday, big feature nights, prices now at 40 cents, admission, 45 cents. This will take care of the tax. As the A. & G. management plans not to reduce the quality of its show, and quantity of offering as well, it is willing to cut the week-day prices and slightly advance the two feature-night admissions.

ANOTHER STATE TAX NUISANCE FOR MONDAY.

Smokers of cigars and cigarettes will also face another tax for on that day the new State nuisance tax goes into effect. It will either be pay more or smoke less. That seems to be the only alternative. However, it's a safe bet to wager there will be no decrease in smoking. Our friends of the fair sex will help to carry the burden.

LOCAL MAN IS GIVEN STATE RECOGNITION.

Our Bay St. Louis delegates in convention always merit some recognition or another. We have presidents, state presidents, secretaries, district officers, etc., for nearly every fraternal, professional or other organization in the State. The latest is the re-election of A. C. Favre, State secretary of the Knights of Columbus organization, convention held in Biloxi this week. Mr. Favre was local Grand Knight of Pere Le Duc Council, and has served as secretary for the State K. C. He is also sec'y treas., of the Chancery Clerk's State Association of Mississippi, with a wide acquaintance over the State.

LOCAL WHOLESALE FIRM DOES BIG BUSINESS.

It might be safe to say no local merchandising firm does a bigger volume of business than W. A. McDonald & Son, wholesale grocers and dealers in general merchandise who do a national business, shipping to many States South and above the Mason-Dixon line. Last week the Echo's printing and stationery department supplied Messrs. McDonald with one hundred reams of high grade mimeograph paper, and it was purchased through The Echo more advantageously than elsewhere. In other words it was a case of better goods for less money and a home firm was patronized.

It would be hard to conceive the volume of paper contained in one hundred reams of this paper, and the surprising part is how quickly it will be used. This is not the first shipment of the kind.

W. A. McDonald years ago was the first merchant in Bay St. Louis to receive merchandise in carload lots.

MAKING THE MAN OVER

It has long been known that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, but Dorothy Dix now learns and imparts the more important information that the same way can be used in making a man over to suit the wife's ideal of a husband. If he is weak, feed him to beefsteak; too strong, carrots and spinach; depression, green peas; cold-hearted, potatoes; and so on, covering the whole gamut of manly emotions. The chances are, however, that the man, if sufficiently in need of being made over, will resort to home-brew for all his troubles, and thus spoil the efficacy of the recipe recommended by Mrs. Gilmer.—Mobile Register.

Announces
For Highway Commissioner

J. F. Thames of Mendenhall announces his candidacy for State Highway Commissioner. Mr. Thames, present member of the Board of Trustees of the State Penitentiary, has been considering the matter of entering the race for some time and finally acceded to the pressure of his friends, and qualified to make the race just before the expiration of the time limit last Saturday.

"Seventeen years ago, at the age of 38 years, I began serving the people of my district and the State of Mississippi as a state official said Mr. Thames. "I have earnestly endeavored to give them honest and efficient service. My record as a trustee of the State Penitentiary is well known. Cooperating with my associates I have had a large part in planning and building a state prison system, the only one of its kind in America, of which the people of Mississippi are justly proud."

"Starting in 1913," continued Mr. Thames, "with a plant valued at more than five million dollars, you now have an institution valued at more than five million dollars and operating successfully. I am glad to have had a part in building this great institution and that there has never been any intimation of graft or scandal in the penitentiary affairs since I became a trustee is the source of great satisfaction to me and my associates."

"In announcing the office of state highway commissioner," stated Mr. Thames, "I am asking a promotion from the people of my district. I realize that the organization of a new state highway department and the construction of hard surfaced roads over the state is a big undertaking. I realize that it will require hard work, honesty and efficiency. My record of seventeen years' continuous service as a state official, I am sure, qualifies me for this most important office. I have succeeded in handling your millions of dollars honestly and I elected highway commissioner, I shall continue to give you the same kind of honest service, pledging to faithfully endeavor to put into successful operation the highway program outlined by the legislature."

"While it is necessary to have a trunk line highway system," continued Mr. Thames, "it is also vital that the interior or county roads be neglected. I fully realize that with institution and that there has never been any intimation of graft or scandal in the penitentiary affairs since I became a trustee is the source of great satisfaction to me and my associates."

CHEVROLET'S NEWEST RECORD IN MAKING MILLIONS OF CARS

Building a Million in Less Than a Year Is Smart Record—President Comments.

Detroit, Mich., May 26.—The seven millionth car built by the Chevrolet Motor Company is on its way to its owner somewhere in America. The epochal car, which happened to be a coach, rolled off the assembly line Wednesday morning, May 23, in the company's huge plant at Flint, Mich. The car was the 1,845,938 six-cylinder car produced by Chevrolet since this model was brought out in January 1922.

Chevrolet's newest record-maker arrived without benefit of ceremony except for the cheers of the workmen along the assembly line, who halted work long enough to give it welcome and watch it being driven to the loading docks for shipment. Then work was resumed and not many seconds later car No. 7,000,001 went to join its historic companion.

Various dates in the life of the Chevrolet Motor Company on which the millionth car marks have been issued furnish a graphic picture of the rapid strides made by the company to its position of 6-cylinder leadership in the industry.

Nearly 12 years elapsed after the company's organization before the millionth car was built, on February 27, 1923, but the second millionth car rolled off the assembly line less than two years and five months later, on July 20, 1925. A year and six months later, on January 13, 1927, the three millionth car was produced. Thereafter less than a year was required to reach each of the succeeding million marks. The four millionth was produced, on Jan. 11, 1928, in 363 days; the five millionth, on Sept. 8, 1928, in eight months, three days; the sixth millionth on June 25, 1929, in 9 months, 17 days. The seven millionth mark, just passed, was reached in 10 months, 25 days.

Commenting on the production of the seven millionth Chevrolet, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the company, declared that building a million 6-cylinder cars in less than a year is an outstanding indication of the enthusiasm with which the public has received a 6-cylinder car in the lowest priced field. This car has explained, officers of the company explained, a series of ever before high quality and performance formerly available only in cars of higher price.

A VIEW OF POLITICS.

Shortly after his campaign manager and eight of his workers had been arrested for alleged election irregularities, former Mayor William J. Fulton of Gary, Indiana, shot himself to death in the Indian home. He left a note to his family, containing this significant message to his son: "Bill, you have been a good boy. Take care of mother, finish school and carry on; but don't get into politics."

The final admonition that makes one stop and think.

There is a good deal of meaning in that bit of advice. It signifies the result of a trend that has long been apparent, but that we seldom have brought home to us so closely; the long, steady decline of politics from the honored place it used to hold.

A couple of generations ago a political career was the goal of every ambitious young American. It was a highly honorable career, to be sure, a mayor, a congressman or a governor carried a great deal of prestige, marked one as a man of exceptional talent, testified to one's ability and rectitude. The result was that with few exceptions the best brains in the country turned to politics, and the public service was enriched by the presence of a high order. There were fascals in high office, to be sure—no country was ever without them—but on the whole politics was the one profession for the energetic man who wanted to make his mark upon his times.

But now? The ambitious youngster, 20 to one, will look to business, to the law, to industry. Politics is in bad desuetude. The easiest way to get a reputation for sophistication is to ridicule congress. We are no longer surprised to read of a congressman or a mayor being caught in some law violation; nor are we surprised to find this Gary politician advising his son, "don't get into politics." We have thought all of this on and over. Politics doesn't interest us as it used to. We devote all of our attention to other matters, and let the politicians do about as they like. We feel, broadly, just about as this Gary man evidently felt; that politics is no place for a fine, ambitious youngster. Politics would ruin his old omniscience, either, and his business to study questions earnestly, vote intelligently and demand 100 per cent. performances from the men we elect to office; and there are indications at this time that there may be return to old standards in American politics for the people everywhere are showing a keener interest in the kind of men they elect to office—Mobile Register.

Assurance of standard quality gasoline is given to automobile owners of Mississippi in the passage of House Bill No. 642, which provides for the "regulation and inspection of the quality and methods of measurement of petroleum products," according to J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture, in whose department is placed the enforcement of the gasoline inspection act of 1930.

Under this new law, gasoline is classified into two grades: (1) U. S. Government Motor Gasoline, which must meet tests specified in the law and which will insure a product of high quality; and (2) Special Gasoline, which may vary slightly above or below the tests specified for U. S. Government Motor Gasoline.

That there may be no misunderstanding on the part of the purchaser of gasoline as to the quality or grade he is buying, every gasoline selling station is required to post a sign, size 24x36 inches and plainly visible from the driver's seat of the patron car, bearing the words "U. S. Government Motor Gasoline." In event that quality is sold, or "Special Gasoline," and this sign shall bear in addition the certificate of the manufacturer showing initial boiling point, distillation points, end of dry point, per cent of distillate recoverable, sulphur content, and popcor strip test. In addition to the large signs, each tank, barrel, pump, or other container in which gasoline is contained or marketed, shall be labeled with the words "U. S. Government Motor Gasoline" or "Special Gasoline," as the case may be.

To make sure that the specified signs truthfully describe the gasoline sold the manufacturer or distributor is required to submit to the retail station a certificate showing the retention of the product to the required tests, and inspectors of the State Department of Agriculture are required to collect samples of gasoline from all gasoline sold in the State through the retail station.

The gasoline inspection act of 1930, a comprehensive law, said Mr. Holton, and local enforcement is required to submit to the retail station a certificate showing the retention of the product to the required tests, and inspectors of the State Department of Agriculture are required to collect samples of gasoline from all gasoline sold in the State through the retail station.

WHERE POPPIES 'GREW' ON THE MISS. GULF COAST AT VETERANS HOSPITAL

Thousands Were Fashioned by Disabled Men for Poppy Day Sales—Interesting Story of Work From Local Angle.

Written For The Sea Coast Echo.

One hundred seventeen thousand red poppies, designed as poppies of Flanders Field, have been made at the United States Veterans' Hospital, Gulfport, by ex-service men without compensation, these poppies being made under the supervision of the American Legion Auxiliary for sale to auxiliary units for use on Poppy Day which is annually observed near National Memorial Day, and the work of making the poppies is completed. Mrs. C. S. Everts, Gulfport, Mississippi division president of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced. The poppies were packed and shipped as ordered by various states. Of the poppies made Alabama purchased 58,000; Louisiana 14,000 and the rest will be furnished units in Mississippi. Louisiana made an additional order of 11,000 poppies a few days ago but the local workers did not have sufficient materials for filling this order.

Mississippi orders were led by Jackson which secured 9,000 poppies and Gulfport and Meridian tied for second place with 3,000 poppies each. The work of making the poppies at the Gulfport hospital was under the supervision of Mrs. Luther W. Maples of Mississippi City, director of this work for the state department. She has been highly complimented by the hospital officers for the gracious manner in which she has directed the work and the excellent cooperation she has secured from the ex-service men through her diplomatic conduct of the work. Mrs. Donald Macrae, national president of the Auxiliary, who visited the hospital and inspected the work, gave her hearty endorsement to it. Colonel Dallas B. Smith, representative of the national director of the Veterans' Bureau, on a recent visit to the hospital, is quoted as having given the work indorsement. Mrs. C. M. Craig, occupational director at the hospital and Dr. Geo. H. Melvin, medical officer in charge, have each expressed satisfaction with the work as handled by Mrs. Maples. Miss Nancy Woodward of Louisville, Miss., is department chairman for the Poppy Day work and her job is to see to the sale of poppies and the state president, Mrs. Everts, announces that her efforts have been most successful.

The poppies have been made in the occupational therapy rooms at the hospital. The ex-service men, patients at the hospital who do not have compensation, have made the poppies. One cent each for making a poppy is paid the men. Some of the men who have worked steadily during the period of poppy making, have earned from $50 to $75 while others have earned smaller sums.

The use to which some of the poppy money is put by the ex-service men is interesting. One man stated that he had been in the hospital about a year and that he wanted to earn some money to give his wife a birthday present, that he had not been able to give her a present since the World War.

Another man who has not been able to work for two or three years and who has two children in a hospital in New Orleans, worked all he could in order to earn money to send to these children for their care and comfort.

One patient at the hospital, passing by the occupational therapy rooms and seeing the red poppies piled on one of the tables, related the first time he had ever seen the poppies blooming. He stated that they had reached out and picked a handful of the poppies. In dead hands. His appeal to men and women to purchase the paper poppies, reminiscent of battle fields in Europe, strikes a deep appeal in the hearts of patriotic Americans that should be answered with adequate funds Poppy Day.

ALL HONOR TO MR. CROSBY

In a recent issue The Echo reprinted from the Picaune Item an account of that paper's editor of a visit made by him to the model Crosby dairy farm, where a herd of milk cows is headed by a thirty-five thousand dollar registered Jersey bull.

The animal in question is not owned by Mr. Crosby, but was brought from Canada, and that gentleman is paying $5,000 for the use of the bull for the period of six months. Doubtless the owners and raisers of scrub cattle in the immediate neighborhood and elsewhere where in this section of south Mississippi fall the complement the greatest which will flow from Mr. Crosby's paying such a princely sum just for the rental of a bull, but when the progeny of that animal transmits the better fat qualities of such a sire to the herds around about Picaune all cattle owners will give him due credit for his wisdom and foresight.

The day is quite coming when Mississippi will be one of the greatest of all the states in the Union with regard to the dairy industry and the wealth which will come in these enterprises. In that industry beyond Mississippi the record is not far behind that of the Picaune Item.

BILBO SOUNDS DEATH KNEEL FOR STATE FAIR

Veto of Fair Lease Bill Expected to Result in Dis-mantle of Buildings.

Jackson, Miss., May 24.—Dis-mantlement of buildings on the State Fair Ground and the return of the property to the State of Mississippi loomed as a certainty when the city commission convened in special session today.

Action taken by the city at the meeting was expected to sound the death knell to the State Fair for this year. That an ordinance would be adopted instructing the city engineer department to start wrecking the buildings on the grounds, dismantle the municipal athletic stadium and to raze the Cotton States League baseball park was evident.

"There is nothing else we can do," Mayor Scott said this morning, "but to wreck the buildings and return the property to the state since the city lease expired on March 26, 1930. Contracts for football games at the stadium this fall which had been held in obedience until the city application for a lease on the fair grounds had been acted upon will be voided, Mayor Scott said.

The mayor also said that no fight to any other proceedings was contemplated. Gov. Bilbo vetoed the fair lease bill late Tuesday.

"BOOTLEG" TOBACCO ON ACCOUNT OF TAX IS NEXT

In anticipation of the enforcement of the nuisance taxes on cigars and cigarettes, local drug stores and other tobacco dealers report that big advance orders are being placed for delvey just prior to the date when the tax goes into effect June 1st. Others are planning to order their tobacco supplies by parcel post for direct delivery.

Quoting from one prominent state druggist, which local druggists agree expresses the truth of the matter: "The tax means that our business is going to be cut from 25 to 35 per cent."

"Already my customers are telling me that after they have consumed the heavy supplies they are now ordering for delivery before the close of the month they intend to place mail orders for cigars and cigarettes with concerns outside the state, and thus avoid the 20 per cent tax."

"Of course I hate to lose their business, but, personally, I don't blame them. Twenty per cent on the average man's cigar or cigarette bill is a considerable saving, and no doubt the concerns outside the state from whom they make purchases will be glad to pay parcel post charges in order to get their business."

"My guess is that the state is going to be badly disappointed with the volume of revenue derived from this source, due to the perfectly legal bootlegging that tobacco users will sort to in order to avoid the tax."

SNAKE SELECTS BED IN McCOMB HOME FOR SLEEP

A large chicken or mouse snake was found in the bed of Mrs. Hubert Pray, who lives on Virginia avenue, when she went to tuck her little five-year-old son in for the night. Her screams brought Bryon Clendenning, a neighbor, to the scene and the snake was killed.

Mr. Pray, who is a flagman on the I. C., was at work at the time. Mr. Clendenning, also is an employee of the railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Pray are at a loss to explain how the harmless snake entered the house, the fact remaining, however, that the reptile did enter the house and was on the bed when found. The snake measured 31 inches from tip to tip—a size not to be laughed at especially when the snake is found in bed—McComb Enterprise.

element which believed, honestly, perhaps, that the State could not be rid of the pest, resorted to and threw every obstacle imaginable in the way of those who sought to drive the pest out, but happily for Mississippi and the interest of all her people there are few who do not now realize the benefits to be secured from the extermination of a pest which has retarded and held back the development of an industry which will prove worth untold millions to our commonwealth and its people.

All honor and praise is due Mr. Crosby for his wisdom and public spirit in bringing this Canadian snake to this section, as it will drive the incentive to other men of wealth to take similar forward steps for improvement and bringing up their home and it will undoubtedly result in the extermination of the pest which has retarded and held back the development of an industry which will prove worth untold millions to our commonwealth and its people.

COMEDY TREATS IN THIS TALKER FOLLIES OF 1930

New Edition of Movietone Revue Packs Full Entertainment Value Into Lively Hit.

A romantic story of youthful love, spectacular musical numbers, hundreds of beautiful dancing girls and an all star cast make "The New Movietone Follies of 1930," which will be at the A. G. Theater Sunday and Monday, an outstanding production since the advent of audible pictures.

It surpasses its predecessor, "The Movietone Follies of 1929," in all departments with a greater cast and a story which would stand on its own merits without the elaborate trimmings provided by the numerous musical numbers.

The cast includes such favorites as El Brendel, Majorie White, Frank Richardson, Noel Francis, William Collier, Jr., Miriam Seegar, J. M. Kerrigan, Yola D'Avril, Huntly Gordon, Paul Nicholson and many others, well known on screen and stage.

William K. Wells, author of many Broadway musical successes, wrote the story and the dialog and it is undoubtedly the best thing he has done to date.

Benjamin Stoloff, who directed the highly successful "Happy Days," "Girl From Havana" and "Speak Easy," handled the megaphone and has far exceeded his previous pictures.

The ensemble numbers were staged by Max Scheck, Maurice L. Kusell and Danny Dare, all well known on Broadway as outstanding dance directors. They were placed in active competition with one another in this production and the result is the most spectacular series of numbers ever seen on any screen.

BLUE-NOSERY LOSES

Governor Bilbo vetoes a large batch of bills coming up in the Mississippi Legislature. We are un-informed about the merit or demerits of most of them. One of these vetoes, however, is clearly an enlightened act. We refer to it because it has some concern both for New Orleans and Mobile.

This was an act to shut down motion pictures, and to prohibit baseball and kindred amusements, on Sunday. Thus it was an aggression of the obsolete spirit of blue-nosery, which would interfere with the innocent pleasures of simple and respectable people seeking amusement and diversion at the only time that many of them can find for recreation.

It is needless to say that this blue-nosery is just as destructive in a material sense as it is in a moral way. For if it prevails, the usefulness of the beautiful Gulf Coast of Mississippi as a place of public resort, not only for Mississippians but for many others in the states around, would be seriously lessened. The Coast itself would suffer in proportion.

The offensiveness of the act seems to have been aggravated by a clause that would have deprived accused persons of the right of trial by jury. Blue-nosery, however, takes no account of human rights, American institutions, or the prevailing opinion of respectable citizens of any community. The opinion of the people of the Gulf Coast has been defined on this point in the recent past by contentions arising in Gulfport and elsewhere along the Riviera. In view of the circumstances it is fair to regard Governor Bilbo's veto as an act of common sense and human toleration.—New Orleans Item.

VON EHREN STATE CAPITOL NEWS GARDEN IS OF THE WEEK FROM OUR BEAUTIFUL JACKSON CORRESPONDENT

Temperate and Tropical Plants Grow in Garden on St. Charles Street

An outstanding garden is that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. von Ehren of St. Charles street. Here the temperate and the past meet in the plants grown in fact the temperate and tropic zones come in the flowers found. Plants that have a distinctly tropical atmosphere are found in profusion as they are grown in the hot houses at the home and ferns, begonias, sultanas and many other tender plants are taken from the hot houses and placed on stands under the mammoth pecan trees where they flourish throughout the summer, finding in the deep shade ample protection from the heat of the sun.

Entering the front gate at this season one passes beneath two graceful trees of the mimosa, the delicate pink and yellow flowers now covering the tops of the trees. A hedge of box wood of the Creole cooks grows beside the flowering hydrangeas. Lilies of many kinds fill the borders. In fact, so completely are the grounds planted that little space is found unfilled with fascinating plants, a list of which would reach much as a plant catalogue, judging by the variety.

Birds with their happy songs make the garden gay. Within cages are found red bird, blue bird and canaries and outside are two parrots. Two sunken pools are filled with gold fish. A large alligator, fully eight feet in length and many years old, swims himself in a third pool at the rear of the garden. This gator was caught by Robert von Ehren, son of the household, almost 20 years ago. He is just recovering now from his long winter hibernation and will be ready in a short while to begin again to eat his diet of fish and meat.

In the orchards behind the house are found many pecan trees which form a continuous shade. Figs, pears and persimmons grow in the orchard. Chickens and ducks flourish in this ideal spot. Several time dogs have their independent homes to the rear.

One of the interesting spots about the von Ehren place is the rose garden located beyond the orchard where Miss Ende von Ehren cultivates many lovely roses, each rose bed surrounded by violets, both the English and Russian, growing here while in the borders are found lilies and various summer blooming flowers are in the beds.

Three experiment stations felt the heavy hand of the gubernatorial veto. The appropriation of $37,500 for a building at the Delta Experiment Station to meet requirements of the Federal government's expense, $30,500 for pecan experiments at the State Experiment Station in Adams county and $3,000 for improvements at the experiment station at Holly Springs, will all be lost unless the veto can be overridden.

Another veto which struck at approximately 25,000 Mississippi citizens was the bill providing for a bond issue of $4,000,000 to take up outstanding guaranty certificates of defunct banks.

Franklin Acquitted by Senate. Lester C. Franklin, chairman of the state tax commission, impeached by the House of Representatives for alleged participation in the $80,000 anti-trust suit scandal, was acquitted by the Senate by a vote of 22 against and 26 for conviction. Two thirds of the senators voted to acquit and convict Mr. Franklin received five more than the necessary 17 votes.

Uncontradicted testimony was produced by the House managers in charge of the prosecution of the impeachment charges, showing that Mr. Franklin conferred with Warren Brothers, general counsel for the Warren Brothers Lumber Company, in New Orleans on two occasions; that he was present in Memphis hotel room when the $80,000 in five and ten thousand dollar bills were paid by Mr. Crafts to Carl Marshall, now away in New Orleans. Evidence was also introduced to the effect that Franklin had copied extracts from the bill of complaint in the proposed million dollar anti-trust suit against Warren Brothers, and gave these extracts to G. C. Cowan, resident attorney for Warren Bros. Mr. Franklin's own testimony before the investigating committee, supporting the article of impeachment charging him with perjury, was introduced before the senate notwithstanding all this evidence introduced in the hearing of the members of the Senate by the House managers, Mr. Franklin did not take the stand to deny any of the allegations and his attorneys did not call a single witness to refute any of the charges. And notwithstanding the lack of denial on the part of Mr. Franklin, 22 members of the Senate voted that he was guiltless. Here is how they voted:

Against conviction: Adams of Montgomery county, Barlow, Bradshaw, Carter, Casteel, Clayton, Davis, Day, Foote, Gaskett, Gregory, Harden, Kiger, Latham, McNinn Miller, Noel, North, Simmons, Stone, Yawn, Zeller—22.

For Conviction: Adams of Con- viction; Adams of Corinth, Byrne, Case, Crumpton, Culin, Dean, East, Fishel, Ginn, Graham, Gulley, Harby, Hebron, Kyle, Loper, McRaney, Minor, Roberts, Sample, Smith, Stribling, Taylor, Whittington, Wright, Young—28.

Correspondence Sea Coast Echo.

By R. L. BROWN. Jackson, Miss., May 26, 1930.

Knowing the temperament of Hon. Thos. L. Bailey, Speaker of the House of Representatives, the prediction is made that the House will be called back to Jackson Thursday of this week for a final legislative session. The urge in the breast of the Speaker for charity hospital patients, who are affected by the veto of Gov. Bilbo of the charity hospital bills, is such that a final desperate effort will be made to override the governor's veto to the charity hospital bills especially. A House resolution gives Speaker Bailey authority to call the members back for a final session. The Senate was called back Tuesday by Lieut. Gov. Adam.

The concurrent resolution which provided for the recess of the House pending the Franklin impeachment trial, also provided that sine die adjournment of the legislature should not be taken later than Saturday, May 31. This resolution remains in effect until it is repealed by both branches of the legislature and, since there is little probability of its repeal, the legislature will surely adjourn next Saturday.

Were it not for the veto by Gov. Bilbo of several important bills, it is probable that the legislature would not have been called back in session. Sine die adjournment could be taken with a minority present and the whole thing would have been over, unless a special session is called by the governor.

Charity Hospital Bills Vetoed. Gov. Bilbo's veto of the bills appropriating money for the support and maintenance of the five state charity hospitals, located at Laurel, Jackson, Meridian, Natchez and Vicksburg, and his veto of the bill providing for $78,000 for support of charity patients in various private hospitals over the state, has caused serious alarm. As the bills stand by the state and unless these bills are passed over the governor's veto, it will mean that the five state charity hospitals will be forced to close and state charity patients will not be treated in the private hospitals. It will be remembered that Gov. Bilbo vetoed the bills in 1928 appropriating money for charity patients in private hospitals, giving as his reason that his scheme for a State Charities Board, appointed by himself, to deal out money for charity patients was the better way.

Efforts will probably be made to pass other bills over the governor's veto, when the legislature reconvenes with the quorum in both branches. One of the bills vetoed by the governor is that providing for the lease of the State Fair Grounds to the city of Jackson. Unless the bill is passed over the veto there will be no state fair this year nor next year.

Governor Makes Appointments. It is expected that Gov. Bilbo will make the appointments to the more

These appointments, by the governor, are being watched with a great deal of interest by people all over the state. They are anxious to know whether or not there is anything to the ugly rumors which have been prevalent and about which Senator Hebron hints.

Governor Would Oust Hospital Commission. Acting upon an opinion of Attorney General George Mitchell, Gov. Bilbo states that he will declare vacant the positions of the three commissioners appointed by Gov. Whitfield and charged with the building of the new insane hospital, and that he will appoint men of his own choice to carry on the work. Col. Sidney McLaurin, a member of the Commission, has rendered an opinion in direct opposition to that of the attorney general, and in this opinion, which is concurred in by several of the most astute lawyers in Jackson, Franklin confirms that the promises taken by the attorney general in his opinion to the governor are not well founded. In an interview, in which Dr. J. W. Provine and W. H. Waddell, the other two appointed members of the Commission, Col. McLaurin stated that control of the State Hospital Commission would not be turned over to Gov. Bilbo without a fight.

The bill authorizing an additional two and a half million dollar bond issue to complete the hospital was allowed to become a law without the governor's signature, while he signed the appropriation measure.

The governor has tried for two and a half years to gain control of the expenditure of the money for the construction of the new insane hospital and has held up the work for that length of time. His latest move to gain this control will cause another delay and in the meantime the 2500 insane patients must stay in the fire-trap in which they are now located.

JERRY'S SHOP. Jerry's Doughnut Shop on 119 Union street is quite an attractive spot where delectable doughnuts, cakes and candies may be purchased. This shop, recently built as a one-room unit and attractively painted, is operated by Jerry Gordon. An interesting decoration is found at the front in the concrete flower boxes made in the form of boots and filled with flowers. In reality it is the home of "Mother Mine Doughnuts," the kind that mother still makes.

Relations. Tommy (reading paper): "Daddy, what are diplomatic relations?" Father: "There are no such people, my boy."

PASS WINS IN DISPUTE WITH LONG BEACH

State Supreme Court Reverses Harrison County Ruling Involving Former Separate School District.

The town of Pass Christian was given the right by the Supreme court Monday to include in the city limits a portion of the former Quarles separate school district which was contested by the town of Long Beach.

Long Beach contended that it had included this section in the Long Beach Separate district and that the action of the city of Pass Christian should be set aside, which the lower court sustained.

The fact that the rural territory may be in some municipal school district, though not in the municipality, would not preclude the city of Pass Christian from including within its borders the municipal rural territory," the court said.

"The power conferred by statute to extend boundaries so as to include unincorporated territory seems to be without reference to formation of a school district," said the court in reversing the lower court's decision.

Another Case Reversed

A. Primos, former operator of the Sunlite Bakery in Gulfport, will receive another hearing in his $50,000 personal injury damage suit against the Gulfport Laundry Company as the state supreme court reversed and remanded to the Harrison county circuit court the case in which the jury here had found for the defendant.

Primos was severely injured in a collision between his automobile and one belonging to the defendant laundry company. The laundry company contended the suit on the grounds that the driver of the truck was an unlicensed driver and that the plaintiff was contributorily negligent.

DOING FINE CONSIDERING

There is not much relief in sight for Mississippi until two years from now when it is hoped and prayed that a governor and other state officers will be elected who have the best interest of the state at heart. Mississippi has suffered much but it is a great state, old as it could never have survived and old as well as it has with such a crowd of grifters preying upon the state funds. (Glossy Record.)

MISSISSIPPI SAYS "LET'S GO!"

On Wednesday Governor Bilbo of Mississippi approved and signed the bill authorizing the hard-surfacing of Mississippi's sector of the proposed "short-cut" highway between the Mississippi coast and the Chief-Rigolets bridgehead. This route, which would shorten by some 22 miles the high way travel distance between New Orleans and the coast, was tentatively recommended years ago by a federal public roads engineer sent here to inspect the Chief-Rigolets highway. Its development has been urged steadily and by increasing numbers ever since. During the past year or so Orleansians and their coast neighbors have been co-operating actively in the effort to hasten its construction.

Some time ago it was reported that Louisiana's highway department had agreed to begin construction on the new highway if and when the Mississippi highway authorities agreed to take care of the sector in their own state. The bill passed by the Mississippi Legislature and signed by Governor Bilbo Wednesday opens the way for construction and paving of the Mississippi link. This official notice that Mississippi is willing and ready to cooperate with Louisiana in the opening of an eagerly desired and important short-cut highway to serve both states ought to insure early action by the Louisiana Highway Commission. The new route will bring important savings in distance and time not only to local and state travel, but to the east-west tourist traffic in whose expansion both states are interested.—N. O. Times-Picayune.

MR. CROSBY'S CANDIDACY.

The above caption attracted attention to the editorial columns of the Picayune Item, in the paper's issue of last Saturday. It refers to the candidacy of Mr. L. O. Crosby, for mayor of Picayune. The article is worthy of perusal for more than personal reasons. Read it.

The Item says: With our eyes and ears open, and mouth shut, we have heard much comment on Mr. Crosby's candidacy for Mayor of Picayune, most of which was favorable. There have been expressions of opposition, however, which, of course, was to be expected.

Some say they object to one man running the town. So do we, but if the town is going to be run by one man, we had just as soon risk Mr. Crosby with the job as any one man we know. The fact of the business is, we think Mr. Crosby ought to be held responsible for at least one term as Mayor of Picayune. If the job is filled as it should be, it is a matter of give rather than take, and who has more to give, in money, experience, vision and prestige than Mr. Crosby? We believe the most dangerous man to place in the mayor's office, is a man who has failed to do anything for his own account, a man whose vision has been circumscribed for lack of means to travel and to observe; a man who must depend on the remuneration of the office for his livelihood. Among the few exceptions to general approval of Mr. Crosby's candidacy, we heard the proposition advanced that some man ought to have the office who needs a job. We say the office needs a man who can create jobs for others. How much better for the community to have a man at the head of our city government who is in position to bring about things that would give employment to several families than one who would feed only his own family from the meager salary the office pays.

We feel that Mr. Crosby has always been very generous to Picayune. We would like to be shown one man who has surpassed him in generosity. If he has been such as a private citizen, then how much more will he feel his responsibility as mayor. He can't hurt the town; he owns too much of it to do harm without he, himself, becoming the principal victim of his own folly. For our part, we say, let him run the town. We believe he is honest, we believe that he has the ability; he has the contact with industry to bring industry our way, so why not instead of giving him a good soft grafting job, impose upon him the responsibilities of bringing out the potential advantages so abundantly ours, by making him mayor.

McComb elected a wealthy mayor; Hattiesburg has a man, and has for the past several terms had men rated as millionaires for mayor, and we have not heard of a single instance where the mayor hurt the cities because they were wealthy. We believe, in recognition for the things Mr. Crosby has already done for Picayune, we ought to honor him with our unanimous approval of his leadership. Let's do it, folks.

Admiral W. T. Cluverius, Commandant of Norfolk Navy Yard will be attached May 31, and will be in command of the Second Division of Battlefleet. His flagship will be the U. S. S. Arkansas. He will be in command of the summer cruise of the midshipmen of the Naval Academy to European waters. The admiral's many friends in Bay St. Louis will be glad to learn of his new attachment.

Cards have been received by Bay St. Louis relatives and friends announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Griffith, eldest daughter of Hon. Virgil A. Many lovely gifts were received. The living and dining room were decorated for the occasion with large pink hyacinth and pink rose buds. Cake with pink icing and ice cream was served and games were enjoyed by all present.

June 4 is designated as the day for Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis and Pineville. The committees include: Mrs. (Dr.) J. D. Ruffin, Mrs. Lucy Gray, Mrs. M. B. R. Leonard, Mrs. George E. Deane and Mrs. George E. Deane for Bay St. Louis.

The Pepper family was attacked by Chief Okra Gumbo and his Canaan-Balls. A rescue party under Tom of Rotterdam and Ole Yegg, the Sweed showed the cabbage, (or was it the savages?), away with B. O. Then came Ban Ana another Sweed who sold Listerine to Tom Ole of Rotterdam and Liffeybow to Ole Yegg. Bill Kitcher was the source of the saw this and gave Chief Okra Gumbo the low down. Another fight ensued, but this time the Peppers were defeated and eaten, because they had no order or should it be order?

The Lord must have run out of brains when it came to C. Genard's turn to be created. Friday past was posing and exposing day for the Seniors and the man with the lil' birdie until when—s. the day the days are supposing days.

Suppose the picture. Pat Wilson practices plenty penmanship on his own name and somebody else's. All we need is one more name in the program to make one feel cheaper than a counterfeit copper cent. Sakaf, a well known misogynist whose last name is Spanish for milk did a most astounding thing to avoid publicity last week. It is rumored among those who claim to be in the know that the coming of Bobbie Tuga were able to give his "little heart" and right arm to the Sodality, what use would we have for it?

The Pepper family was attacked by Chief Okra Gumbo and his Canaan-Balls. A rescue party under Tom of Rotterdam and Ole Yegg, the Sweed showed the cabbage, (or was it the savages?), away with B. O. Then came Ban Ana another Sweed who sold Listerine to Tom Ole of Rotterdam and Liffeybow to Ole Yegg.

Bill Kitcher was the source of the saw this and gave Chief Okra Gumbo the low down. Another fight ensued, but this time the Peppers were defeated and eaten, because they had no order or should it be order?

Moral: It pays to advertise in America; but not in Africa.

The Stanislaus Defeats Saints. The Stanislaus track team took an easy victory from the boys of Aloystown. There were no records broken because of the real lack of competition of the N. O. boys.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER BY W. F. BOND

It has been a real pleasure to attend this spring so many splendid commencement exercises of our public schools in various parts of the state. The programs given by the graduating classes have been most interesting and instructive. The kind of program of course, has to be determined largely by the personnel of the classes and the type of school. The old idea of having orations on far-fetched subjects of little interest to the hearers has just about been abandoned. Also the plan of written speeches for the representation of the classes to memorize and deliver has about played out. One can always tell whether the speech being delivered was written by the one delivering it or by his teacher. All speeches should be original in every respect. It is far more interesting to hear boys and girls on graduation day deliver their own speeches in their own way than to hear them try to deliver speeches prepared for them in which language used is far above their heads.

Furthermore, the speeches should be short and to the point on some practical problem in which the school community or county is interested. People prefer to hear speeches on subjects in which they are interested and from which they will receive some benefit. Our schools and colleges should always keep in mind that we are educating the youth socially, economically, industrially, religiously and politically. This idea should be carried out in our commencement speeches in the high schools, especially in the graduating study work of our colleges.

In other words, our schools and colleges should help to solve the problems in Mississippi that must be solved if our people are to be happier, more prosperous and our political life better in the future than it has been in the past.

MR. MORROW AND PROHIBITION

Hon. Dwight W. Morrow is a candidate for the Republican nomination as a senator from New Jersey, and in his initial speech announcing his candidacy left no doubt in the minds of the people as to his views on the subject of prohibition. Unlike so many latter-day politicians, Mr. Morrow came out flatly and in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and gave his reasons why he believed that no time should be lost in getting the prohibition issue settled at the earliest possible moment.

Every intelligent observer of what is taking place in this country from day to day growing out of the attempt to enforce the prohibition statutes, realizes that it is a farce, breeding crime and corruption, and bringing respect for the law into disrepute. Its enforcement is viewed by many as an abridgement of personal rights and naturally is resented, even by those who are otherwise observant of all the laws of their country.

In the course of a very able and timely article in the New Orleans Times-Picayune says:

Opening his campaign for the New Jersey senatorship last Thursday, Mr. Dwight Morrow declared outright for repeal of the prohibition amendment. He will vote, he promises, for a repeal resolution. Pending its submission and ratification by the states, he would have the federal prohibition enforcement officials concentrate upon the effort "to keep liquor from coming into the United States and to prevent interstate traffic in it," leaving the states to handle through their local police the task of enforcement within their own respective borders. The repeal amendment he proposes would "restore to the states the power to determine their own policy toward the liquor traffic, and vest in the federal government power to give all possible protection and assistance, to those states that desire complete protection, against invasion from those states that do not."

Prohibition defenders frequently make the point that the wet forces, demanding repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, or the Volstead law or both, have offered no defining alternative plan for control or regulation of liquor when these embattled laws are swept away. Mr. Morrow meets that attack by submitting a definite and practical alternative. The plan he proposes is short, plain and understandable; there can be no twisting or misinterpretation of its terms. So far as the New Jersey campaign at least is concerned, it clarifies the issue. If the anti-prohibitionist forces see fit to accept it nationally it will disarm the criticisms of vagueness and ambiguity incurred by their present lack of a definite alternative program.

Thus Mr. Morrow has made, as we see it, a useful contribution both to the anti-prohibition cause and to the issue's discussion. That he has stated his own convictions so clearly and courageously will be attributed in some quarter to his lack of political training and experience. But his positive stand and straightforward speech will be welcomed, we suspect, by those citizens who are seeking in good faith a solution of the prohibition problem. His utterance may conceivably embarrass the administration, however, since he is reputed a close friend of the president and the latter's choice for the New Jersey toga.

The South Shore Boulevard Bridge Club enjoyed a delightful day Wednesday, motoring to Gulfport in the morning. A swim at the Hotel Markham pool proved quite refreshing. The afternoon was spent in attending the show at the Strand. This day's entertainment was arranged by the club especially as a farewell to beloved member, Mrs. A. K. Roy, who plans to leave Monday for Portland, Ore., for the summer. Those enjoying the trip included: Mesdames A. K. Roy, Geo. E. Res, John Welch, E. J. Lacoste, H. C. Mr. Koch, a graduate of St. Stanislaus College, is no stranger to our people. He is located at Picayune with the Goodyear Yellow Pine Lumber Company, employed as efficiency engineer.

TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF JEFFERSON DAVIS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Jefferson Davis' birthday will be observed with fitting ceremonies Sunday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, June 1, at Beauvoir Soldiers Home, with the Beauvoir Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy taking the lead in this annual observance. The birthday is June 3, but inasmuch as the general Confederate Reunion convention begins that day the committee set exercises for Sunday.

As has been the custom for a number of years, the Beauvoir and Gulfport chapters cooperate in this memorial exercise and committees from the two chapters are planning the observance to which everyone interested is invited cordially.

Dan Russell of the Gulfport High school, son of Chancellor and Mrs. D. M. Russell, has been selected as the speaker of the occasion.

fit to accept it nationally it will disarm the criticisms of vagueness and ambiguity incurred by their present lack of a definite alternative program.

Thus Mr. Morrow has made, as we see it, a useful contribution both to the anti-prohibition cause and to the issue's discussion. That he has stated his own convictions so clearly and courageously will be attributed in some quarter to his lack of political training and experience. But his positive stand and straightforward speech will be welcomed, we suspect, by those citizens who are seeking in good faith a solution of the prohibition problem.
